We suggest a driver contest for results

Another safety campaign is coming up for the month of October.

Called "Most Courteous Driver" contest, it is announced this week by John W. Maloof, Georgia Citizens Council director. This contest invites the participation of private citizens. Any citizen—other than government officials and police officers—may nominate. Letters may be based on past performances or on any particular incident. A special board of judges will select the winning letter. Prizes will be awarded to both the writer of the letter and his or her candidate.

Deadline for submitting nominating letters is midnight, Monday, October 31. They should be addressed to John W. Maloof, director, Georgia Citizens Council, 20 Ivy street, S. E., Atlanta 3, Georgia.

Now we are all for anything which will help reduce the terrific death toll on our highways. And we go along with Mr. Maloof and his "Most Courteous Driver" contest and will give it as big a play in our columns as we can.

But we know and you must know that "the most courteous driver" will not actually be the winner of such a contest. For the most courteous driver is the unnoticed driver on our highways. He or she goes about his or her driving, giving way to the road hogs, stopping at street crossings to let pedestrians walk safely across the street, slowing down to make room for the hill passers in close spots, stopping at stop signs, yielding the right of way to the pushers and aggressive drivers in a hurry to get nowhere fast.

Hundreds and thousands of these drivers are on our streets and highways daily and nightly helping avoid would-be accidents set up by the reckless and speeding drivers. To pick one as more courteous than another would be doing an injustice to a great number.

Now we suggest a contest for the consideration of Mr. Maloof and his committee. Conduct a contest to name all the reckless and speeding drivers. Write letters about them, and nominate them to receive awards, such as $500 fines or hard labor on our streets, or loss of drivers licenses.

Now there, Mr. Maloof, is a contest to generate interest and action—and in no time we'll have the highways free for all the courteous drivers to enjoy—and there's no accounting for the number of lives we'll save and property damage we'll avoid.

Meet us at the football game

Tomorrow night the Statesboro Blue Devils make their 1955 debut in Memorial Park Stadium when they meet the Jeff Davis High School of Hazelhurst.

The Blue Devils got off with a bang when they defeated Alma 46 to 0 in Alma, in their first game September 16.

Coach Teel believes he has a good team but in his post-game statement September 17, he said that the Alma team did not really give him an opportunity to know what the Blue Devils are capable of doing under what he called "normal conditions." He's apt to get a look at them tomorrow night when they play Jeff Davis High last Friday night 18 to 2.

We suggest that you take time out and take a look with Coach Teel. The Blue Devils will appreciate your presence to give them added incentive to give their best in this game.

Game time is 8:15. Be seeing you at the game.

They'll be selling fine investments

Next Tuesday morning more than 100 Statesboro men will move out into our midst. They have a mission to accomplish.

They will not be begging for charity. They will be selling investments in future manhood.

They will be calling on the citizens of our community, seeking their support of Boy Scouting in our community. And those who give their support will be making a good investment—one that will pay dividends in stabilizing boy character and citizenship.

THE LAST of those old-fashioned balustrade-type contest fences was overtaken by the changing times last week. It sort of marks an era for us older ones. We remember the one which was in front of the old McDougald home where Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beaver now lives. Last week Mrs. Dell Anderson had the fence in front of her home and the home next to it, formerly occupied by Mrs. Cecil Brammen, torn down. It is rare to see a home fenced in now-days. Back in our day a fence was part of the decorative scheme of the home. There were fancy picket fences so beloved by the kids who made beautiful music on them with a stick as they moved along the sidewalks. There were the high board fences which shielded the back yards from the public view. And a gate to swing on was part of the boy's day. And then there were these massive concrete balustrade fences like the ones in front of the McDougald home and the Dell Anderson home. But with the changing time fences went the way of old-fashioned things. The kitchen, the parlor, the wide hall down the middle of the house, the front porch with the bannisters and the big rocking chairs. Oh, well.

THANKS TO WARD MOREHOUSE of New York City, for a copy of the "Territorial Enterprise and Virginia City News," Mark Twain's newspaper, now published in Virginia City, Nevada, by Lucius Beebe. It's a refreshing newspaper, using old-fashioned type, and illustrations.

SUPPORT this great movement generously when you are called upon next week. The boy you will be helping may be your own.

Statesboro's in for favorable publicity

Statesboro and Bulloch county came in for more favorable publicity last week when a news story dated from New York City, reported that the Statesboro Association of Life Underwriters won a top national honor in the membership campaign of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

The Statesboro unit captured the top honor among associations with fewer than 100 members.

We commend C. W. Kitchens, president of the Statesboro association, and his organization for bringing this honor to our community.

There are many homes about the nation now that have suddenly grown quiet. The folks left in those homes have a pretty hard time getting used to this stillness. Even the homes that have younger children yet at home seem deathly quiet—for the leaves-taking of older brothers and sisters seems to subside even the children left behind.

For the homes that are still chock full of the noise and excitement and toys and dirt and love of these young things that grow up and leave such a void, such writing may sound pessimistic and depressing. Well, it shouldn't be if mothers and fathers face reality in the beginning.

A little bundle from heaven is left at your home one day. From that time on, life is never the same. No matter how good you are at organizing or planning or anything, everything is changed. First of all, besides the change in your very heart and soul, you don't ever seem to sleep like you did until now. The truth is, you'll never sleep again like you once did even when that bundle of love changes into a man.

The first few years of this new life fills your every minute. You must think for him in the beginning and you must look after his every need. As he grows you must think more and more for him in that you must remove every danger around the home and yard.

Life goes on but this new life seems to take up most of his parents' time and love and thoughts. At first you clasp him to your heart body and then he grows older and you find that he is getting too busy to give you such loving so you

AND THANKS to Miss Rita Pollis, Mrs. Earl Searson's sister, for a copy of the Pembroke Observer, published in Pembroke, Ontario, Canada. It contains a place about the famous editor, Bob Edwards, who can be compared to our own late Mr. Jim Miller. Mr. Edwards published a newspaper called "The Eye Opener" which was a scandal sheet, and according to reputation, there were times when it was not considered good taste to talk about its contents in mixed company, and yet there is no doubt that it kept some of the leading politicians on their toes. He feared no man and the bigger they were, in their own estimation, the more certain he was to cut them down to size. We enjoyed reading these two newspapers and we are pleased that Mr. Morehouse and Miss Pollis thought that much of us to get copies to us.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse have moved from Colorado Springs, Colorado, back to New York City. Mrs. Morehouse is the former Miss Ruth Rebecca Franklin, daughter of "Miss Pearl" Franklin and the late Hershel Franklin. They were here in Statesboro for a few days recently.

JUST IN CASE you're interested, there are only 86 more days to Christmas. Better begin thinking about your shopping list.

It Seems To Me

From the Statesboro Quarterback Club this week comes a special note to all the football fans in this section. Inman Dekle, club captain for the year, and Everett Williams, quarterback, mailed out letters this week to all those thought to be interested in joining this year, extending them a special invitation to membership. If you didn't get a letter it doesn't mean you aren't wanted, it simply means somehow the committee missed your name.

We believe this will be one of the best years the Quarterback Club has had and all over town fans are saying they are planning to join the squad this year. All the members of the club are considered as coaches and everyone has an opportunity to help call the plays.

The letter that Capt. Dekle reads something like this:

Dear Football Fan: "The Quarterback will blow the whistle for the first meeting of the Statesboro Quarterback Club on Monday, October 3. The team has had several meetings and have made plans for the best year yet."

"We feel these new plans will meet with your approval and will give you a more active club. "The membership fee has been reduced. This year you pay only $7.50 as your membership fee and then pay for each meal. If you don't make it to the meeting you don't have to pay. You will remember this is one of the things most of the members said they wanted. "This is just the beginning however, later to this. Your own choice of dinners with five meats to choose from. Each week just state on your card when you mail it back whether you want chicken, T-bone steak or fillet, lobster or country ham. $2.25 for the steaks and $2.00 for the other selections. Sounds good huh, well there is still more good news to come.

"To eliminate ties and to make it more interesting you can mail your card to 25 games from which to select the winners. The winner each week will receive a special prize.

"The club will again meet at the Forest Heights Country Club at 8 p. m. each Monday night beginning October 3, and lasting for nine weeks. The last regular meeting is scheduled for November 28 with the big jamboree party of course coming October 3. The team has had several meetings and have made plans for the best year yet."

"We feel these new plans will meet with your approval and will give you a more active club. "The membership fee has been reduced. This year you pay only $7.50 as your membership fee and then pay for each meal. If you don't make it fact, call Inman and give him the word. "We believe this is going to be our best year yet. You can help make this true. All the old members we have talked to have really liked the idea. See you there on the third.

"Oh yes, when you return your card with your selection of dinners this will of course mean that you plan to come. In this case your food will be prepared for you and if you fail to make it you will be obligated to pay.

"Yours for clean sportsmanship, Inman Dekle, captain, Everett Williams, quarterback."

This sounds like a fine letter to us and we would like to make a few comments to the readers of this column concerning the Quarterback Club, especially the football fans.

In this day in which we live every minute of our day is filled with pressures of business and other obligations. I believe that you owe it to yourself to make a few comments to the readers of this column concerning the Quarterback Club, especially the football fans.

Then too, you will find something more than just fun, you will find a renewed interest in our high school program and clean sportsmanship will mean something more than just the dictionary definition.

FOR THE FIRST time in seven years the Statesboro Blue Devils defeated the Vidalia High School Indians in Vidalia, Friday night, September 24, to the tune of 7 to 0. It was the first time in three years that Statesboro has been able to score a touchdown against the Vidalia Indians. The lone touchdown came in the second period as a result of a pass from J. A. Cone to Gene L. Hodges. This play put the ball in scoring position and on the next play J. A. Cone drove to the two-yard line and Dave Barnes, the powerful fullback, smashed the center of the line to score. He repeated the play to make the extra point. The game ended 7 to 0. "Stag" Johnson was the coach that year.

ACCORDING to a statement made this week by R. P. Morris, locating engineer, the Burton Ferry Route will run through the heart of Statesboro business section. The Bulloch section of the Burton Ferry Route from Vidalia to Statesboro has been completed and will require very little additional work. The contract for the bridge over the Ogeechee River has not yet been let.

WEDNESDAY, September 29, 1937, plans for lighting the football field on the municipal playground were submitted to C. E. Walcott, superintendent of the Statesboro High School. The plans were drawn and submitted by the Georgia Power Company. According to the plans the cost of lighting the field would be about $2,000. There is a movement on foot to secure enough funds by local subscription to underwrite the installation of the lights on the football field.

THE SOUTH GEORGIA TEACHERS will play three football games in eight days, beginning tonight when they play the University of Miami at Coral Gables, Fla. Next Monday evening, October 4, they play Stetson University in Deland, Fla. A squad of 25 men with Coach "Crook" Smith left here yesterday, Thursday, September 30, (1937) for their Florida swing.

H. L. KENNON, former field representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, has assumed the management of F. W. Darby Lumber Company. This announcement was made simultaneous with Mr. Kennon's resignation from the RFC. Mr. Kennon came to Statesboro with the closing of the Bank of Statesboro and, since that date, has played an active part in the successful liquidation of that bank. He came here from Adel.

THE COTTON MARKET slump was temporarily forgotten here this week when farmers of Bulloch and adjoining counties sold over 1,200 hogs and 220 cattle at livestock auctions here. Prices were unusually good. Number 1 hogs brought from $11 to $11.15 per hundred pounds.

B. H. RAMSEY JR. was elected president of the sophomore class of Teachers College during the chapel hour last Friday.

MRS. ROY BEAVER and Mrs. Leon Tomlinson of the Statesboro Presbyterian Church attended the group conference of the First District of Savannah Presbytery which was held in Savannah at the Hall Memorial Presbyterian Church last week.

The first meeting of the 1955-56 school year of the Parent-Teacher Association of Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick.

Plans are being made here to entertain the Lower Canoochee Association of Primitive Baptist Churches that will convene at the Brooklet Primitive Baptist Church on October 4, 5, and 6. Eleven churches will be represented. Services will be held the three days and nights and dinner will be served at the church each day.

Mrs. C. L. Goss, Mrs. W. B. Parrish, and Miss Naomi Driggers have enrolled at Teachers College.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hughes spent last weekend in Wilson, N. C. They carried their three grandchildren, Jay, Frank and June Olmstead to Wilson to meet their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Olmstead, and then to the Olmstead family returned to their home in New York.

OUR HEALTH

By K. R. HERRING

Only Unhealthy Sinus Tissues Become Diseased. The sinuses are hollow cavities in the bones in the forehead and cheek bones. From the mucous membrane which lines the sinuses come quantities of the moistening mucous fluid. Healthy sinuses drain this fluid through small ducts into the nasal passages. The main feature of a sinus infection is failure for a variety of reasons, of drainage through these openings resulting in the accumulation of very toxic fluid and causing the effect, pain.

Sinus trouble does not occur in healthy tissues. The cause of sinus trouble lies within the body. The inability of the body to adapt itself to the changes and conditions of the surrounding environment is the cause, and is known as lowered resistance.

Chiropractic adjustments puts into action the defense forces within the body, and allows the body to bring the sinus tissues back to their normal state of health.

SAVANNAH PANTHERS
DEFEAT MIDGET VARSITY 19 TO 0

The Statesboro Midget Varsity took a sound defeat on Saturday night of last week from a hard hitting midget team from Savannah. The Panthers outplayed the locals all the way before the largest crowd ever to see a midget contest in Memorial Park. Some 350 fans were on hand to see the season opener which was introduced with appropriate pre-game activities including the introduction of both teams.

Cheer leaders from both teams help to liven the activities as they cheered for their favorites.

Coach Gilbert Cone Jr. says he will carry a new offense to Brunswick on Saturday of this week. The split-T will be displayed in favor of the tight T and the single wing.

The midgets have been invited to spend the night in Brunswick Saturday night as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Wilder at the Olander Motel.

TEENAGE LEADERS MEET AND MAKE PLANS

Some 43 teenage leaders from Bulloch county met at the Recreation Center this week to make plans for fall and winter activities at the Recreation Center. The leaders discussed various phases of the recreation program and requested that Saturday night be set aside for their activities. A special committee will meet again this week to draft plans for the first fall meeting which has been set for October 8. The meetings will last from 8:15 to 11 p. m. and varied programs will be presented. Membership is open to all teenagers living in the county who have reached their 16th birthday. A constitution will be adopted after careful study of the committee and a special request has been made that an adult committee on teenage recreation be organized to assist in the program. The program will be under the supervision of a hostess committee named for each meeting and Max Lockwood and Mrs. Fuller Hinnitt.

EVERYONE had a big time at the Tween Teen meeting at the Recreation Center this past week with everyone wearing costumes of every description. Prizes were awarded to those wearing the best costumes. Kay Minkovitz won first prize dressed as "The Wolf Girl" from the Lil Abner comic strip.

Jerry Newsome was dressed as an old woman and captured second place. Third place went to Mickey Roberts who came as a school teacher and George Ann Prather won fourth prize dressed as a flapper girl.

1. We would like to show you some of the things that make the new 1956 Ford one of America's finest cars—despite the fact it is one of America's lowest-priced cars. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?

Let's take
the NEW '56 FORD!

It's the fine car at half the fine car price!

3. Here's what you ride on. This frame has five cross-members including a K-bar member up front. It can take it! And Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really blots out bumps.

4. Here's the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8 and we assure you, it will give you new driving enjoyment. It's available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models . . . the 176-h.p. Y-8 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models . . . the 137-h.p. Six in all models.

5. Note the deep-center design of this new Lifeguard steering wheel. The wheel rim is over three inches above the post to help cushion the driver in case of an accident.

6. This Lifeguard cushioning for instrument panel and sun visors is optional. It gives you extra protection against serious injuries when thrown forward in an accident. You may also have optional seat belts to help keep occupants securely in their seats.

7. Here's Ford's new Lifeguard door latch. A double-grip locking engagement produces the chance of doors springing open under impact. Chances of serious injury in accidents are less when passengers remain in the car.

Well, that covers the important points. But there's a lot more. So we'd like to invite you to come in and see the '56 Ford for yourself. Then you'll see the colorful new exteriors and interiors, the quality workmanship that is evident everywhere. Then you'll learn the story. You'll know that Ford is the car at half the fine car price.

Esla FB hears Supt. H. P. Womack talk on Bulloch school program

Bulloch county school program is fast shaping up as being second to none. H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, stated to the Esla Farm Bureau. There are some discomforts in the program yet, such as the school bus routes in some areas being longer than they will be when the road construction programs are completed. However, the physical facilities are virtually completed and are of excellent construction and built according to the best information available on how they should be built.

Mr. Womack did not think there was a better group of teachers in the state than the group here in Bulloch county. The patrons of the schools are cooperating extremely well in most instances and helping to overcome the present handicaps that do exist. The people in the county are tolerant of the inconveniences caused by the building program, and road work underway. All of these factors just naturally make for an excellent program, he declared.

Recruits for band are sought

Forty new recruits for the Elementary School Band is the objective of the campaign which will begin soon in the Sallie Zetterower and Mattie Lively Elementary Schools, according to C. L. Tarpley, new band director of the Statesboro schools.

"It is not impossible to achieve this objective," Mr. Tarpley says. "All parents desire their children to play some musical instrument." Mr. Tarpley continues, "and the schools here offer the best opportunity for them to do so."

In order to determine those best suited to participate, scientific tests have been given to determine the inherent musical ability of the children, he pointed out.

Arrangements will be made whereby instruments may be rented for three months to make sure the children will succeed before future investment is made, the bandmaster said.

tions for police, water and departments have been installed and the first Civil Defense rector for Statesboro and Bulloch county has been appointed. The most recent significant development in Statesboro is the progress of the O. W. W. school, which is a plan given by the citizens for bringing in nature. Mayor Bowen and other officials worked for a long time to make this possible in Statesboro.

Mayor Bowen is also a leader in the move to secure new opportunities for seeing the circus and helping a worthy human cause.

Sponsored by the Lions Club, with three other organizations also sharing, the circus will be in town Thursday, Oct. 13. And at the same time, other children and adults have the opportunity of seeing the circus and helping a worthy human cause.

Local merchants have made it possible to have the circus in town Thursday, Oct. 13. And at the same time, other children and adults have the opportunity of seeing the circus and helping a worthy human cause.
